Dear Orison

I have now heard from Prof. Kramersch who is willing for her paper to be translated into Brazilian. You may now translate the paper and publish it in your journal provided that you state at the very beginning of the paper that it is a translated version of a paper published in IJLTR, with full details and the link to original paper. Please also let me have the link to the translated version when it is published.

best wishes

Dear Dr. Sagheddi,

I give permission to Dr. Bandeira de Melo to translate my article "Culture in foreign language teaching" that you published in the Iranian Journal of Language Teaching Research into Portuguese for publication in a Brazilian Journal.

Best,
Claire Kramersch

Dear Professor Kramersch,

I have just received a message from Professor Karim Sadeghi, the editor-in-chief of the Iranian Journal of Language Teaching Research (message below). For them to decide on whether or not I will be allowed to translate and reproduce your article in a Brazilian journal, they need your written approval.

Could you please write to them and let them know about your decision on this matter?

Thank you again!

All the best,

Orison

Dear Orison

Thank you for the message and your interest in translating the paper published in our journal. Please ask Professor Kramersch to send us a note showing her approval and then we will make a decision at that stage.

Best wishes
